

Edward B. Diethrich Vascular Surgical Society International Traveling Fellowship

The Edward B. Diethrich Vascular Surgical Society (EBDVSS) International Traveling Fellowship was established to broaden the educational experience of cardiac or vascular surgical residents interested in endovascular surgery during their final year of training.

By providing the opportunity to travel to one or more established Centers of Excellence in the applicant's field of interest, the International Traveling Fellowship seeks to support research, enhance endovascular skills, stimulate academic inspiration, and promote international exchange.

Two residents are selected annually for a maximum of three-weeks training at Endovascular Centers of Excellence:

- North American resident for travel to an international host institution.
- International (non-North American) resident for travel to a North American host institution.

Financial support is provided in the form of a $7,500 grant to underwrite:

- Travel and living expenses incurred for a maximum of three-weeks training during the Traveling Fellowship
- Travel must be completed prior to January 1, 2010.
- Travel and accommodations at the annual International Congress on Endovascular Interventions conference.
- Registration for the Congress and all related events will be provided by EBDVSS.

Applicants must have the approval of their home and prospective host institutions. The application consists of a one-page proposal summarizing what the applicant hopes to accomplish during their training, a current curriculum vitae and cover letter outlining their career goals. Additional, award recipients must agree to present a summary of their experience at the International Congress.
