

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS FOUNDATION • DISCLOSURE

It is the policy of International Congress Foundation (ICF) to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its sponsored educational programs. Selection of presenters and content development may not be influenced by commercial entities.

To that end, ICF shall identify and resolve conflicts of interest of everyone who is in a position to control the content of the educational activity by reviewing content and all disclosure of any relevant financial relationships with commercial supporters. Disclosure will include (1) any affiliation or financial interest that may affect the speaker's presentation(s), (2) whether the speaker will discuss an investigational product or the off-label use of a commercial product.

In addition, authors are required to attest to that: (1) any recommendations involving clinical medicine are based on evidence that is accepted within the profession of medicine as adequate justification for their indications and contraindications in the care of patients, and (2) all scientific research referred to, reported or used in support or justification of a patient care recommendation conforms to the generally accepted standards of experimental design, data collection, and analysis.

The intent of this policy is not to prevent a speaker with an affiliation or financial interest from participating in the planning or implementation of the CME activity, but rather to resolve any conflict of interest prior to developing the education activity by:

- 1) identifying the relationship,
- 2) instructing speakers to base recommendations for clinical on the best available evidence, and if necessary
- 3) submitting content to peer review during development to ensure it is clinically valid, based on generally accepted scientific research, and aligned with the interests of the public.

Complete disclosure information will be included in the syllabus.
